Lions Club Notes

By W. H. TIDY

BEISEKER.—A few words spoken by a charter member of our club at the last meeting, inspires thoughts that are expressed in this chapter of our Lions Club.

After five months absence, through illness, Lion Peter Schmaltz remarked how glad he was to be back again, and expressed his pleasure at seeing so many new and young men's faces around our club room. These words could not help but give inspiration to our members to carry on with the work that has been going on since the club was organized.

It is up to new members to take over leadership of the different committees to put new life into the club. Like Lion Peter Schmaltz, there are other older members who are still staunch, loyal, still young in spirit but old in service.

It is for the new members to study the ethics and objects of Lionism and to follow in the footsteps of our older members. We are glad they are still in our association and they honor us by their presence, for they are still energetic workers. But we must remember it is time they had a well earned rest and younger members should shoulder the responsibilities required for the activities of the club.

So I know you will say with me "All honor to these men, still young in spirit though old in service, that we resolve to take up the burdens and problems, and eventually the leadership toward accomplishments that redound to the good of the entire community, and to keep alive the spirit of unselfish service that older members like Lion Peter Schmaltz have started.

SIMPLICITY IN GOVERNMENT

Too often the conduct of government business gets out of hand with a multiplicity of bureaus and departments that criss-cross each other in their efforts. Present day regulation of employers is daily checked by inspectors for unemployment insurance, income tax, workmen's compensation, industrial relations board, health boards, and the like. You would think that people were in business, not primarily to sell or produce goods, but to keep up a continuous round of bookkeeping entries.

With separate government agencies regulating municipal affairs, income tax, agriculture services, hospital boards, school affairs, etc., farmers could be forgiven if they concluded that their primary purpose was not to produce food but to enable armies of bookkeepers in the cities to remain in jobs making continuous rounds of inspection, reports, check-ups, etc., etc., to infinity.

One businessman explained the complex in farmers' terms thusly:

"Let us suppose that I am the owner of a cow. The purpose of a cow is to produce milk. If you turn the creature into a pasture and allow her to eat grass she will produce many quarts of lacteal fluid. The process consists of eating grass, transmitting it into milk, removing the milk from the udder. However, you are infected with the system disease. You cease to be interested in milk. You hire inspectors to count the number and measure the height of the blades of grass eaten by your cow. You count the number of steps she takes in the pasture. You time the number of occasions upon which she looks over the fence, and test the volume of sound produced when she moos. Then you employ a bookkeeper to record these items, and various persons to make out forms for the guidance of the bookkeeper.

"At the end of the year you have a vast and enterprising volume of information, but you have added so greatly to the cost of your operation by systematizing that you lose money on every quart of milk you sell. This, of course, is exceedingly modern and in accord with business practice, but you find yourself compelled to sell your cow to pay your overhead."

It is somewhat comforting to know that the Alberta legislature is going to provide for a county system that will put municipal, hospital and school affairs in the hands of one council for each district in the province.

One point of view we must not overlook, however, is that given such wide powers, county councils must none-the-less see to it that the ratepayer's dollar is safeguarded against further depreciation. Introduction of this system should not be the signal to embark on a spending spree in the areas in which the county system is being tried out.

ONE MAN ALONE

What can one man alone accomplish against the world? Lost in this tiny planet whirling in the dark immensity of space, stifled by the growing complexities of a civilization still close to savagery, battered by the struggle for existence, what can one man do to keep alive the spark of human generosity and kindness that will warm his heart and set a light to guide his path?

By joining his hand with others a man can see realized the good he wishes to perform. By co-operating with others a man can help to stem the currents of misfortune and ill luck that overwhelm many.

Red Cross is a channel for the kindest impulses of each one of us. It is this great co-operative effort, this response from one heart in concert with millions that makes the Red Cross a living symbol of mercy.

Each year Red Cross extends the opportunity to every one of us to do something to help others and, in the last analysis, to help ourselves. Through its medium we express Canada's generosity to other peoples of the world in dire need; we help our neighbor when misfortune strikes; we lay the foundations for the better health and well-being of our own citizens and the coming generations.

That's why we say, as the annual Red Cross appeal opens this March, "Give generously! Give from the heart!"

SCRIPTURAL MEDITATIONS

"The church of Christ is God's appointed agency for the salvation of men. Its mission is to carry the gospel to the world. And the obligation rests upon all Christians. Every one, in the extent of his talent and opportunity, is to fulfil the Savior's commission. The love of Christ, revealed to us, makes us debtors to all who know him not. God has given us light, not for ourselves alone, but to shed upon them, the followers of Christ."

"If the followers of Christ were awake to duty, there would be thousands where there is one today, proclaiming the gospel in heathen lands. And all who could not personally engage in the work, would yet sustain it with their means, their sympathy, and their prayers. And there would be far more earnest labor for souls in Christian countries."

Steps to Christ.

THE WORK OF MERCY NEVER ENDS

Explaining the County System

(From Edmonton Journal)

EDMONTON. — A plan to centralize administration of school, hospital and municipal affairs in a single county council passed first reading in the Alberta legislature last week.

The plan contained in a bill called The County Act differs from general county government in that councillors are elected from the county at large without the local officials of a town or village automatically gaining a seat on the county council.

The bill provides that the government, by order-in-council, may set up the boundaries of a county, its electoral divisions and the number of councillors on the council.

Under the plan, the chairman of the county council, elected at the first meeting of the council by its members, is given the powers exercised before by the reeve of the municipality, the chairman of the board of school trustees and the chairman of the hospital district board.

The council is given sole jurisdiction over municipal, school and hospital affairs but will have three committees to take the load of administration off its shoulders. These committees, formed partly of elected councilors and partly of appointed electors, have the same powers as the council except to borrow money, pass by-laws or those powers reserved for the council by a by-law or an order-in-council.

UP TO SEVEN

Membership of the municipal affairs committee would be the smallest of the three groups, with three county councillors and not more than three electors appointed by the council. The other two committees could have up to seven members.

Hospital and school affairs committees would be made up of three county councillors, at least one and not more than three electors named by the county council, and representatives of any town and village which comes under the county council.

The act says that where there are more than three towns and villages in the county entitled to a member on the school and hospital affairs committees, the mayors will act as a representative in rotation from year to year.

Powers given the three divisions of representatives on the three committees are equal. The committee will prepare estimates for presentation to the county council which passes a budget.

The part of the budget approved for each of the three committees will be the responsibility of that particular committee for administration.

The new act also provides that the minister of education, health and municipal affairs may divide the assets and liabilities of school, hospital and municipal districts partly included in a new county set up by order-in-council.

Problem In Exodus Of Married Priests

ROME. — The flight of Roman Catholic priests from areas where Catholic clergy have wives and children to other areas where most are forbidden to be married has created a special problem for the Vatican, according to its news service.

The married priests are members of the Oriental rite, to which 8,000,000 of the world's 425,000,000 Catholics belong. The Latin rite, which is practised by 97 per cent of the world's Catholics, including most of those in the United States, forbids marriage among the clergy.

Oriental rite priests have fled into Germany, France and Italy from Poland, Bulgaria, Romania, Russia and other Communist areas. The Vatican Sacred Congregation for the Oriental rites is attempting to find new assignments for them, but has found that priests and laity in the Americas and in western Europe have been startled to encounter priests with wives and children. Many of the priests have five to eight children.

The "benevolent comprehension" of some local bishops has made it possible to find new assignments for a number of the exile priests, the Vatican press service said. The Sacred Congregation for the Oriental rites has sent word to bishops, through local Vatican nuncios, that the married priests are in proper ecclesiastical order, and has asked the bishops to make suitable explanations to local priests and laity.

The number of priests involved certainly includes "dozens" and "possibly hundreds," informed sources have revealed. Some of the priests for whom no assignments have been found are still in western European refugee camps.

The Congregation for the Oriental rites has tried to send most of the priests to Brazil and Argentina to take up work among co-nationals who emigrated earlier.

Priests of the Latin rite married in the first generations of Christianity, but after a meeting of Spanish bishops in the fourth century imposed celibacy on the local priesthood, the ban against marriage spread to the whole Latin rite.

Good Name For A Good New Village

(From Edmonton Bulletin)
As The Edmonton Bulletin suggested last week, the residents of West Jasper Place have decided to call their new village by the simple term of "Jasper Place."

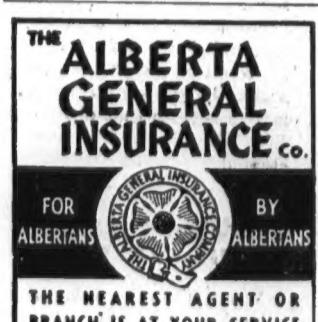

The village council has approved the choice and the new name has been forwarded to the minister of municipal affairs for his approval.

All that remains, so that confusion may be avoided, is for the city of Edmonton to change the name of Jasper Place district within the city limits and one member of the city council has suggested that the Edmonton district might be renamed Capital Hill.

The matter of nomenclature means little to the people who live between Glenora and the city limits.

It means a great deal to the people who live in the new enterprising village because it combines long usage with practicality.

The essential changes should be consummated with as little delay and argument as possible.

Do You Want Personality? Interest Yourself In Others

Personality, once regarded as an indefinable something which certain people had and others lacked, can be developed by training, just as the mind can. Its development depends on doing an increasing number of things, with and for other people. So counsels Dr. Henry C. Link, eminent psychologist and author in the Readers Digest for March.

Defining personality as the extent to which one is able to interest and serve other people," Dr. Link says this ability is made up of habits and skills acquired by practice. As an individual's personality grows, his happiness grows with it. But his efforts for others cannot be made on a "cash and carry basis". Only as he uses his ingenuity and energies to give happiness to others, regardless of reward, may he achieve happiness himself.

"Many of us are afraid to venture any unusual attention to another," Dr. Link notes, "for fear of being misunderstood or rebuffed. But the person who, because of fear, stops trying new approaches to other people will never expand his understanding of them, and his own happiness will shrink."

Dale Carnegie said, "The sweetest music to another person is the sound of his own name." Yet how often we see the postman, the elevator man, the garage man, without greeting them by name. Omitting such small attentions to those beyond our limited circle of friends, we lose touch with man as man.

We pay taxes to support the needy, but harden our hearts toward individuals in need, Dr. Link observes. We go to church, profess to believe the commandment, "Thou shalt love thy neighbor as thyself," but there is no love of man in our hearts. Even in our routine attitude about each other. How many times is the father on his arrival, greeted with greater affection by the dog than by his children!

In the new social consciousness developed in recent years we favor grand schemes to give the average man a better deal, yet we remain indifferent toward the people around us. Our ideas may have changed but our personality has remained stationary.

Whether our kindnesses to others be large or small, the principle is the same: happiness is to be had for the giving. "Here is the human road," Link says, "probably the only road to that abundant life which all desire."

Says Alberta Owes Him Eight Cents

A. E. Fee, Social Credit member for Sedgewick, thinks he should collect eight cents from the Alberta government, and he appears to have a 'good case.'

Last week, Mr. Fee received a letter in Killam. The letter, sent from the office of Robert Andison, clerk of the Alberta legislative assembly, did not contain a stamp. Mr. Fee had to pay eight cents before he could receive delivery of the letter.

Jokingly, Mr. Fee complained to Mr. Andison. A check revealed the stamp must have become unstuck in the mail. The letter was an invitation to Mrs. Fee to attend the official opening of the Alberta legislature.

Stop Smut — Treat Your Seed.

Seed treatment of grain crops for the control of smut is a practice that is adding hundreds of thousands of dollars annually to the pockets of western farmers.

Treatment Needed. There are two important reasons why seed treatment should be widely used in Western Canada this spring. First, the surface-borne grain smuts, which can be easily controlled by seed treatment, are still very prevalent in this country and causing heavy losses annually. Second, owing to the occurrence of frost, drought, and poor harvesting conditions, much of the seed-grain that was produced in many districts of Western Canada in 1949 will germinate poorly, yes, very poorly, in 1950. Such seed needs to be protected against soil-borne organisms that cause seed decay and seedling blights. Seed treatment will perform two important functions—it will disinfect and protect the seed.

Treatment Methods. Today, the seed disinfectants (chemicals) recommended for treating wheat, oats, and barley for smut control are Ceresan M, Leytosan and Panogen. Panogen, a liquid treatment, is a promising new seed disinfectant. When used in the dust form, Ceresan M or Leytosan should be applied to wheat, oats and barley at the rate of 1/2 oz. per bushel of seed. It is best, however, to treat seed of oats and barley at least 7 days before it is sown. If seed grain is dry it may be treated 30 to 90 days before seeding, without injury to germination. Such treated seed must, however, be stored in a dry, well ventilated place. It must be remembered, of course, that the above treatments will not control loose smut of wheat and true loose smut of barley. The only satisfactory seed treatment for these smuts is the "Hot Water Treatment."

If you want further information on seed treatment see your Agricultural Representative, or write to your nearest Dominion Laboratory of Plant Pathology (Winnipeg, Saskatoon or Edmonton) or to Line Elevators Farm Service, Winnipeg.

New British-Designed Air Ambulance

A new British air ambulance is being developed by Auster Aircraft Limited, of Leicester, England, specially designed for bush doctors in Australia and for medical men whose patients live in isolated areas. It is the Auster Avis, Mk. 2. The plane will carry a standard full-size stretcher and, apart from the pilot, has accommodation for a sitting casualty and an attendant. Provision is made to enable blood transfusions to be given while the air ambulance is in flight. The ambulance can be converted into an ordinary four-seater aircraft when not in use. If needed, the conversion into an air ambulance can be made in a few minutes. It is hoped that this new aircraft will be finalized during this year at the Company's works at Leicester. This picture shows how the side of the Auster Avis Mk. 2. air ambulance can be lowered to load a stretcher case.

"In The Legislature"

This week saw the continuation and completion of the debate on the Speech from the Throne. Every member of the opposition spoke and a goodly number from the Government side.

Honourable A. J. Hooke, Minister of Economic Affairs, told the House that nearly a million tourists visited Alberta during the year and spent over twenty-three million dollars while here. Sixteen new libraries were opened in Alberta last year, said Mr. Hooke, with the Government providing grants to assist them. During 1949, 4,000 new British immigrants came to Alberta through the efforts of Alberta House in London and applications by people interested in coming here are now higher than they have ever been. Forty-three new industries were established in Alberta last year employing over 600 people.

Honourable C. E. Gerhart said that the County System will be experimental and only those areas will come into it that make a request. Under the set-up, Municipal and School boundaries will be the same and one body will govern the area. In some cases municipal hospitals will also be a part of the County system. It is not expected that more than a few will be established in this year to prove whether or not the change is of advantage to the areas involved.

Both the Leaders of the Liberals and the C.C.F. were opposed to the present oil policy but at the same time Mr. H. B. MacDonald, Independent Member for Calgary, thought this province was most fortunate in getting the development that we are today and congratulated the Government on the way it is running the affairs of Alberta.

Mr. A. J. Liesemer of the C.C.F. spent most of his time arguing for the Beverage Dispensers in Calgary and finding fault with the hotels not serving the beer-drinking public satisfactorily

Mr. H. B. Macdonald advocated driving tests and a closer checking on Alberta highways.

Closer scrutiny of highway traffic and tightening of liquor laws was advocated by the government member, Rev. J. A. Wingblade.

Gordon Taylor, member for Drumheller, was disturbed over the Orders-in-Council being passed by the Dominion Government; 730 during the First World War, 92,000 during the last year and 5,400 in 1947, when there was no war.

The Government was strongly criticized this week by the Lac Ste. Anne member, A. V. Bourcier, whose seat has been moved to the other side of the house. He claimed that there were Communists in the Government and that Social Credit principles had been abandoned.

About twenty bills have been introduced into the House but only minor changes are being made by them and no particular change in principle or policy.

Friday night's sitting was well attended to hear the Budget address of Premier E. C. Manning. It was the largest budget in Alberta's history with an estimated revenue on income account of $74,789,530. The estimated expenditures on income and capital account will leave a balance this year estimated at $2,536,439. For many years the budget has been estimated with a deficit and this year's estimated surplus may even be exceeded by the end of 1950-51.

Much valuable information concerning Alberta's oil industry was given by the Honourable N. E. Tanner, which will be dealt with in the next article in this paper.

LOUISA'S LETTER

Dear Louisa:

I've tried to do the best I can for my family and while my work is not so hard now, there were times in the past that I felt unequal to cope with all I had to do.

Times are better now and I think I had a little part in what success we, as a family, enjoy. But, all I hear is criticism. If we sit down to a meal, it is why don't we have something else instead of what we have, or why wasn't it prepared in a different manner?

If I try to get anyone to do some simple task around the house they grow positively indignant. Because I have one maid, they say that I have the money to hire my work done and not to call on them. Of course, these are possibly jobs that the maid never does, but they think it is up to me, and speak as if I have untold wealth at my command, when, as a matter of fact, I can scarcely make ends meet.

I am getting awfully tired of it but am undecided how to meet the situation

"DISGUSTED."

Answer:

It is rather late to do anything effective now. You sound as though you have a very spoiled family. You know there are some people who are chronic grumblers and they find it impossible to see good in anything or anybody.

To hear them tell it, they have always been imposed upon. Their teachers never had any sense, they knew more than the teachers from the first grade on up. Their families never appreciated them—probably wanted them to do trivial tasks when their minds were set on higher things—and when they get out in the world, all of the competition will be unfair. The other fellows will be suspicious, sly and envious.

These egotists, for that is what they are, are so self-centered that nothing but a "wrassle" with the world will take any of the conceit out of them.

It is a pity that you did not start earlier to teach them graciousness and amiability. A grumbler finds it so much harder to get along in the world and to succeed than does the friendly, unassuming person.

We get out of the world just about what we put into it and the fellow who is afraid that he might give a little more than he gets, usually ends up having very little of the things that make life worthwhile—particularly, friends.

LOUISA.

The Power Of A Woman

When Chambers of Commerce, municipal councils, and transportation experts and economists discuss the problems of attracting industry to a particular municipality, they talk about such things as freight rates, proximity to the source of material supply and distribution costs.

They are partly right, for these are factors which have some part in determining the most economic location of any industrial enterprise.

Never, however, under-estimate the power of a woman.

In recent discussions with several manufacturers who are considering moving their plants from large cities to smaller communities, we were told the biggest single obstacle was not the cost of moving, the finding of adequate personnel, nor freight rates, but merely convincing the wives of certain key employees that life in a small town was "human".

One manufacturer who had moved to a point 60 miles outside Toronto some three years ago was being forced to return to the city because the wives or certain of his executives would not adjust themselves to life and friends in a smaller centre.

Making strangers feel at home, improving local recreation facilities, raising the cultural level of a community and other similar considerations are often "pooh-poohed" by hard-headed businessmen and labor leaders who claim that the main job of a Chamber of Commerce or a town council is to go out and get more industry.

It often happens, however, that seemingly unimportant considerations such as these are the very things which determine the industrial and commercial prosperity of a town or village.

Most industrial heads move their plants to new communities because they fall in love with the way of life in those communities, not because of economic factors. They like the fishing. They like the people. They like the beauty of the streets. They are impressed.

Timely Farm Facts

From the Office of Edmonton
District Agriculturists

RESISTANCE BUILT UP BY CALFHOOD VACCINATION

During 1949 a large dairy herd that was Bang's free had infection introduced by the purchase of an infected cow. 18 cows aborted, mostly while on pasture. In the same pasture field were 12 pregnant heifers which were vaccinated as calves. They could not help being exposed to heavy infection, but every one carried its calf full term. The calves were all born normal and healthy. As first calf heifers are more liable to abort than other cows, we presume that if these heifers had not been vaccinated as calves a high percentage or all would have aborted. This case clearly shows the value of calfhood vaccination in a negative herd and also how easy it is to introduce infection even into the best of herds. The loss in milk and cream in this herd would amount to a lot of money. No owner of a clean herd can be certain of keeping infection out. Dogs and even coyotes may drag an aborted calf on to his property.

Another example pertaining to an infected herd is as follows: Several ranchers used to lose 30-40 calves every year due to Bang's Disease. By following a yearly program of calfhood vaccination these losses have been eliminated.

30-40 extra beef cattle for sale now mean $6,000-$8,000 more annually, so calfhood vaccination has paid them big dividends.

Anyone in the Municipal Districts of Morinville, Strathcona, Sturgeon and Stony Plain who is interested in this calfhood vaccination program started in the Municipalities of Morinville and Strathcona last fall, may write the District Agriculturist, at 9817-Jasper Avenue. This should be done without delay in order to vaccinate in May all heifer calves which were too young last fall. The spring born calves will have to be done in the fall.

TRACTORS CAN BE FIRE HAZARDS

Experience of fire insurance officials goes to show that the farm tractor can be a number one fire hazard, if treated too casually. Farm tractors are designed so that the chance of fire is reduced to a minimum, but unless the machine is kept in good running order, and is operated on a safety first plan it can be, and is the cause of many farm fires.

The important items are mufflers, gasoline lines, carburetors, and the ignition system. Trouble rarely comes suddenly and there are usually warnings of defects which can be detected in advance. Tractor repairing should not be done in any building where fire could do extensive damage. Distance is the greatest protection and the cheapest. A minimum distance should be 80 feet from any main building. Flaming gasoline spreads rapidly.

Combustible material in and around a tractor can be a serious fire hazard. Chaff can accumulate on the engine, pile up on the muffler or get sufficiently in contact with heated parts to cause a flash fire to start.

There may be no rules of the farm—as there are of the highway—but the slightest accident, if flaming gasoline is involved—can cause a disastrous fire.

WILD BEES AID ALFALFA SEED SET

Two groups of wild bees are mainly responsible for alfalfa seed setting. These are the bumblebees and the leaf-cutter bees. The large, hairy, black and yellow bumblebees and the leaf-cutter do the tripping. Both are effective "trippers" but they vary in their living and working habits.

The leaf-cutter bees are, as a group, the most effective cross-pollinators of alfalfa. Providing suitable nesting sites are available close to the fields, they appear in numbers year after year. Leaf-cutter bees nest in trees or logs, or in dry banks nearby alfalfa fields when the weather is bright and warm. The leaf-cutter bees are very sensitive to temperature drops.

Bumblebees tend to nest on the surface or below ground level, in exposed grassy areas, or in light bush. They may be abundant one year and scarce for several years following. Unlike the leaf-cutter bees, however, they work at lower temperatures with less sunshine and consequently put in a longer "tripping" day in the alfalfa fields. But the bumblebee is a fickle feeder and may direct his buzzing flight to a nearby clover field, rather than across the fence in the alfalfa field.

The honey bees cannot be depended upon to trip and effect the cross-pollinating of alfalfa. Bumblebees and leaf-cutter bees will do so, but they are present only in sufficient quantity to efficiently pollinate a limited acreage, particularly the borderies. Fields should be small not exceeding 15 rods in width for best results.

When in the city shop around the corner and save.

Sunday School

EPHESUS, A CENTRE OF CHRISTIAN INFLUENCE
International Sunday School Lesson for March 5, 1950 MEMORY SELECTION: "Be strong in the Lord and in the strength of his might."—Ephesians 6:10.

Lesson Text—Acts 19: 1, 8-10, 18-20; Ephesians 4: 25-32

Paul's second missionary tour lasted three years and about one-half of the period was spent in Corinth, the western extent of his journey. It seems that he left this city without any great disturbance, turning his way homeward again. A short stop was made at Ephesus, where Paul preached, and promised to return later.

Paul proceeded to Jerusalem, where he observed Pentecost, and conferred with various leaders of the church. Then he went to Antioch, to tell the Christians there the wonderful story of gospel extension at his hands into far-off regions. It was from this church that the great missionary journeys started. While at Antioch, some think, Paul wrote his Epistle to the Galatians. After a short rest Paul's energy and enthusiasm impelled him to undertake another journey.

Timothy and Titus accompanied Paul on his third missionary tour. Journeying over land, passing through the Cilician Gates, Paul revisited Derbe, Lystra, Iconium and Pisidian Antioch, again strengthening and encouraging the Christian churches which he had established. He proceeded to Ephesus by a northward route, finally reaching this leading city of Asia Minor, longer than at any other missionary city.

Ephesus was the capital of the Province of Asia Minor and one of the most important centers of the eastern Mediterranean, having extensive docks and a large commercial activity. It was well known for its literary and artistic expression, the later being most famous, for the magnificent Temple of Diana, which had required more than two centuries in the building and was ranked as one of the Seven Wonders of the ancient world.

For three months Paul preached in the synagogue of Ephesus concerning the Kingdom of God, contrasting the purity, reason and holiness of this ideal state with the licentiousness, superstition and wrong of heathen beliefs and practices. He made progress in winning souls but because of opposition from some of the Jews finally abandoned the synagogue and went with his disciples to the school of Tyrannus where he taught two years. During this period Paul probably made frequent excursions in the outlying territory for we are told that all that dwelt in Asia Minor heard the word and various churches were established, seven of which are mentioned in Revelations.

Paul's ministry was blessed by various manifestations of divine approval, rewarding the faith of those who believed. These occurrences led sorcerers and magicians to try to copy him and they sought to work their magical art with the name of Jesus. We have an account of the discomfiture of two such magicians. Under the influence of Paul's work many of those who practiced these secret arts realized their insufficiency and inadequacy and staged a great bonfire of valuable books about magic art.

In his letter to the Ephesian Christians, written when Paul was a prisoner in Rome, Paul points out five marks of a Christian, the first of which was truth. Falsehood wears away the foundations of character. Self-control was the next characteristic. While righteous indignation has a rightful place in the life of a Christian, the devil never has his way more completely than when he makes a man lose his temper.

Honesty is another necessary attribute of the Christian. Within a few days, every person who handles any amount of money will have to report his income for the past year. How many can do so without misgivings? Christian merchants use honest scales. Clean conversation is another mark of the Christian. "Corrupt" talk, which includes gossip, foul talk or telling smutty stories, spreads the germs of wickedness. Most of us sin by the use of the tongue more than by any other member, and last, but certainly not the least, mark of the Christian is kindness — that forgives deadly wrongs. This is the true "Christian spirit." No man does anything more Godlike than to forgive. If God were to forgive our transgressions as we forgive those who transgress against us, few of us would ever have our sins forgiven.

First Annual Meeting Of New Memorial Hall

CROSSFIELD. — The first annual meeting of the new Memorial Hall was held in the hall on Tuesday afternoon with some 60 interested persons present. Blake Stillings was appointed to occupy the chair and Harry May acted as secretary. In his report, W. A. Hurt as chairman of the building committee, stated that he hoped the public would be satisfied with the hall as it stood, and while not finished by any means it was in shape to be used and what was there was all paid for and still some cash in the bank for further improvements.

He thanked the members of the various committees for their efforts and also all those who had contributed in any way to the building of the hall and hoped their efforts would not slacken until it was finally finished.

The financial statement showed that a little more than $10,000 had been spent, with enough cash on hand to cover the liabilities and leave approximately $1,000 for further additions. The next project is expected to be the adding of a number of feet of new building to the west end to accommodate a stage and dressing rooms.

Some discussion took place regarding a name for the hall and it was finally decided that it should be known as the Crossfield Community Memorial Hall.

In the election of a seven-man board to operate the hall and to continue as a building committee, the following were elected: W. G. Murdoch, E. M. McNaughton, G. R. Jones, J. Van Maaron, W. A. Hurt, W. W. Stafford and T. Cumming; the first named three members to act for one year and the remaining four for a two-year term.

Following the open meeting the directors met and elected W. A. Hurt to be chairman of this board and appointed H. May as secretary-treasurer. The chairman appointed two members to comprise a committee to look into the matter of obtaining suitable seating accommodation. It was also agreed that the present arrangement for a weekly moving picture show should be allowed to continue.

Before adjournment of the open meeting C. D. Casey had moved that a vote of thanks was due to the members of the various committees connected with the building of the hall. This was given most heartily by those present.

Plan Red Cross Campaign

CROSSFIELD. — Mr. Al Cross of the local bank staff, as campaign manager, conducted a meeting of the local executive and canvassers of Red Cross, which was held in the United Church parlor, Monday evening, Feb. 27. Mr. Cross stated that the purpose of the meeting was to acquaint all the canvassers with the work that the Red Cross is carrying on in peacetime, in order to dispel the idea that Red Cross is only a wartime organization.

Mr. Shave, assistant to the commissioner, Alberta Division, was introduced. He painted a series of vivid word-pictures of "Then" and "Now." He dramatized scenes in a hospital, people mourning the passing of a dear one, whose life could have been spared if enough blood transfusions had been available. The picture changes, the scene is a happy one, relatives and friends are visiting the patient who is well on her way to complete recovery mainly because of the Red Cross Blood Transfusion Service. Continuing along this art gallery, there is a picture of a youngster who is wistfully looking out of the window at playmates—she was doomed for life as a cripple. "What do we see here?" Red Cross Crippled Children's hospital has made room for yet another patient and two years later the little girl no longer looks but is out enjoying her rightful place with other children in a carefree happy children's world.

It is summertime, the children are at the beach, paddling, boating and swimming is much enjoyed and mainly because in the watch tower is a Life Guard, who is there, another symbol of the service of the Red Cross which has a Swimming and Water Safety Program.

Then coming quite close to home, you are all familiar with the part Red Cross played in alleviating the distress occasioned last year during the Drumheller floods and also of the train collision disaster near Brooks, Alta. The Emergency and Distress Service of the Red Cross went to work, saved many lives and brought order out of chaos.

Wouldn't you be proud to become a member of an organization such as this?

Mr. Cross on behalf of the members, thanked Mr. Shave for his inspiring talk.

Mrs. M. Charney, who needed no introduction, save that she is convener of the Crossfield Blood Donor Clinic and was official delegate to the annual Red Cross

AIRDRIE NEWS NOTES

AIRDRIE. — Deepest sympathy is extended to Mrs. Vic Watson who lost her mother, Mrs. Chas. Bishop, who passed away recently in Calgary at the age of 75.

Mrs. Bishop was born in Newfoundland and came to Calgary 46 years ago where she was one of the first social officers of the Salvation Army. She is survived by, in addition to her daughter Mrs. Watson, two other daughters, one son, 13 grandchildren, one brother and one sister. She was predeceased by her husband in 1943 and by a son, Clarence, in 1946.

West Airdrie Ladies Community Club recently sponsored a big military whist drive, with 23 tables taking part. Door prize of a bed spread was won by Muriel Morrison.

Over a dozen Airdrie bridge players attended the Crossfield tournament which started March 14.

All schools have been closed in Airdrie during the past week owing to an outbreak of scarlet fever.

convention held in Calgary recently, gave a brief resume of her two days at the convention—and of course, got in a few "plugs" concerning the next Blood Donor Clinic to be held in Crossfield on March 23. A report of the convention is given elsewhere in this paper.

Mr. Austin, president of the Red Cross Society, Alberta division was introduced.

Mr. Austin congratulated both Mr. Shave and Mrs. Charney on the favorable impression created by their talks on Red Cross activities. He spoke briefly—The objective for the Province of Alberta is $300,000 and we must each do our share towards meeting this figure.

It was decided that $500 of local campaign funds would be ear-marked for the furnishing of a two-bed ward in the new Junior Red Cross hospital being erected in Calgary.

The date of the campaign to commence locally March 6, 1950. Greet your Red Cross Canvasser with a smile neighbors—one never knows when or where disaster might hit—or whether or not the bottles of blood so freely given might be needed to save the lives of those dear to you.

The canvassers for the Crossfield district are as follows: Mr. Frank W. N.H.L. Captains Pick All Star Team

All star selections are very interesting even though they never amount to much. For instance: if you were a coach in the National Hockey League this season and were offered a choice of the active players, how would you like this set up: in goal, Bill Durnan of Montreal; defence, Leo Reise of Detroit and Gus Mortson of Toronto; centre, Sid Abel of Detroit; left wing, Ted Lindsay also of Detroit; at right wing, Maurice (Rocket) Richard of Montreal?

Would be that this would not be your selection, but according to an article in the latest issue of the Hockey News these are the players the six NHL team captains would choose.

And should any of your starters get tired the substitutes these six captains would give you include: goal, Chuck Rayner of New York; defense, Kenny Reardon of Montreal, Jack Stewart of Detroit and Bill Quackenbush of Boston; centre, Edgar Laprade of New York or Paul Ronty of Boston; wing duties, Gordie Howe of Detroit; Roy Conacher of Chicago and Butch Bouchard of Montreal.

Captain Sid Abel was the only captain of the six to earn a place on the mythical squad.

The six team captains who selected these players are Doug Bentley of Chicago, Ted Kennedy of Toronto, Buddy O'Connor of New York, Butch Bouchard of Montreal, Milt Schmidt of Boston and Sid Abel of Detroit.

Abel, Richard and Durham are the only first-team repeaters from a similar all-star group selected by the team captains last season.

Conacher was the only other wingman while Quackenbush, then with Detroit, and Reardon were the defensemen. Only newcomers to crash the first team this season are the defensemen, Reise, Mortson and Lindsay who was selected to the second team last season.

It will be very interesting to see how this team compares with the official all-star group selected after the close of the season by the six NHL coaches.

Incidentally these captains (Doug Bentley is the only change from last season) are pretty good in their selections. Last year they only missed by one position, picking Reardon instead of Stewart, of naming the official all-star group, and correctly named Pentti Lund as the rookie of the year and Quackenbush as the Lady Byng "most gentlemanly" winner.
